THE METLAKAHTLANS.

Mr. Wm. Duncan Writes on the Condition of the Colony on Annetti Island.

Difficulties Met With and the Progress Made by the Tshimpsean Exiles.

Mr. William Duncan has prepared an account of the movements and present condition of the Metlakahtla Indians who went over in a body from their old home in British Columbia to an island in Alaska, one year ago, which has been published in American papers. For the information of our readers, most of whom are familiar with the history of this Indian community, and the religious and agrarian dissensions which culminated in their expatriation, we make a few extracts. The attention of Hon. Mr. Turner especially is directed to the complaints made against the British Columbia government:

"On the 7th of August, 1887," continues Mr. Duncan's account, "I arrived at Port Chester, Annetti Island, where I found about forty Indians, who had preceded me to await my arrival. The next morning a few of the men left for Metlakahtla, B. C., to carry the news, and in a few days a fleet of over fifty canoes arrived with our people. Other fleets followed at intervals, and the work of returning for fresh loads went on for some weeks, until we had about 800 souls at our new home.

"The island we are on is called Annetti Island, and is one of the Gravina group of islands in southeastern Alaska, and is situated about seventy miles from our old home in British Columbia. Roughly speaking, the island is about sixteen miles long and five wide; though very mountainous, like Alaska generally, yet it affords a good sized tract of low land, comprising dense forests and bog land. The beach is a very suitable one. The drawbacks of the situation are that the land in some places is a little below the level of the sea, so that it will be very difficult to drain it. The island is about twelve miles from the route taken by steamers. The harbor is so deep that I fear in stormy weather the anchorage would not be a safe one, and from the position of the mountains on one side of us we are exposed to all the fury of southeast gales, the prevailing wind here."

"Nearly all of the fine weather left us of last year after our move commenced was taken up in moving our goods and people. Hence we had only time and means for selecting very temporary buildings before the winter was upon us. Upwards of 130 log huts and board shanties are scattered along the shore for a mile, and as near to the beach as possible to be out of the way of laying out our town. We can do but little building in the summer as all our people are away at work in different places; but when they return in the autumn we shall hope to begin building in real earnest. For public purposes we have already a good-sized building erected which we use for school and church purposes; also a large guest house for strangers who visit us."

"We are, of course, somewhat suffering at present for the loss of our industrial plant, left in British Columbia. We miss, also, the Skeena river and the streams from which we had a plentiful supply of salmon, but I believe that our loss will be more than compensated in due time, when we are all better acquainted with the resources of our new location. Our steam sawmill, with planing mill attached, is very busy at work. Everything belonging to it is fixed and managed by the Indians. Orders from surrounding canneries are coming to us and we have a prospect of a good lumber trade. Dogfish abound in these waters and a number of our people have already formed a company for taking the fish and miking oil. There prospects are good. Halibut is plentiful here and though at present there is no market for it, yet at least it affords a supply of food within the reach of all in the settlement. As to salmon, we have not yet been long enough in the country to know whether or not we can make a profitable business in continuing it here, as we did in British Columbia. The streams are all small and it is feared will soon be fished out as there are already four canneries at work in the vicinity. If our experience this summer teaches us there is a reasonable prospect of success in canning, we shall hope to have a cannery in operation another year. Our next, and not the least prospect of obtaining a livelihood is in gardening. I believe when once the ground is cleared and drained the raising of vegetables will offer remunerative employment to all who are willing to engage in it.

"At first, our people were permitted to take down their houses at Metlakahtla, and move them away without molestation. The government not having expected the migration to take place were unprepared to act at first, and had we possessed the facilities for carrying away our property quickly, no doubt we might have finished without having any further trouble with the authorities. Our means of transportation were, however, very inadequate, and the boisterous sea often checked our progress in our fragile canoes."

By reason of the departure of the Indians from Metlakahtla, Mr. Duncan says the Government has confiscated all the property that was left behind in British Columbia. He says: "Our public buildings there still remain almost intact, though our people have taken down a good many houses, yet the most of the material is still left behind. We hope as soon as our scattered forces return home to draw up a list of individual losses and add these to the loss in public buildings, our church, village hall, village store, guest house, salmon cannery, sawmill, work shops and about 80,000 feet of lumber and 40,000 bricks in the yard. We calculate at present that the total amount of our losses will not be less than $50,000. As to financial affairs, resources and needs: We have not begged; yet we are grateful to friends who have assisted us. The total amount raised by them to the present date is $3,846 79. In addition to this I am promised $1200 by the Government for our school expenses. Out of the above sum we have already spent $2348.69. * * * I am now preparing plans for buildings to be used as an industrial school and teachers' residence. After these we shall need a church and a hospital. * * * Our industrial plant must grow out of its own earnings unless we obtain capital from outside sources. A well-known gentleman in Portland has kindly undertaken to pave the way for organizing a joint stock company which will manage and be responsible for all our industrial pursuits and business affairs. By this company we shall afford an opportunity for all the natives to invest their savings, and by having as many as possible interested we hope to stimulate enterprise and teach them business principles."

"As a proof of their earnest desire for the education of their children, the people here have lately sent thirty-four of their youths to the training school at Sitka for terms varying from two to five years. We have in our school register the names of 170 children, and an average daily attendance for the first quarter of this year of 110. During the last quarter, which embraced a busy time, the attendance was 76. I have recently written a letter to Hon. Mr. Dawson, the commissioner of education at Washington, on our educational affairs; and from the hearty sympathy and flattering care of the government we are receiving in this particular, I do not hesitate to say that we shall in a few years have an English speaking and well educated community of natives here who will stand by the good and the right, and be an honor to the nation that has fostered them."

SPORTING NOTES.

Lawn Tennis and Lacrosse Tournaments—Aquatic Events.

MOBBED THE UMPIRE.

San Francisco, Aug. 13—At a close game of ball between two league clubs yesterday, witnessed by over 10,000 people, a crowd of roughs invaded the diamond and attempted to mob the umpire for his unjust decisions. The police came to the latter's assistance and the mob dispersed.

AQUATIC.

A number of Toronto residents have posted $500 for a match between Wm. O'Conner and George W. Lee. If the match can be satisfactorily arranged it will probably come off before the end of this month.

Though beaten by Peter Kemp for the championship of the world in Australia in May last, Hanlan has again thrown down the gauntlet to the antipodean sculler, and on Friday, September 28th, they will measure blades for the title and £2500 a side.

The new practice boats for the Vancouver Boating Club have arrived from Toronto. They are four-oared, lap-streaked, outrigged boats, 33 feet in length, fitted with roller seats and the latest improvements in rowlocks and steering gear. Some of the members were out for a spin and pronounce them beauties.

KAMLOOPS TOURNAMENT.

Vancouver and Victoria Lacrosse teams will take part in the tournament at Kamloops on the 17th prox. The Amity, James Bay, and probably the Mayflower baseball teams will compete for the prizes in the baseball tournament.

BASEBALL.

At a meeting of the Tournament Committee held at Kamloops on Tuesday last it was decided to increase the prize list by a purse of $200, open to the world; 2nd prize, $50. This action was taken in consequence of the letter received from the Seattle Club, asking for the particulars of the competition.

Calgary is going to the Baseball Tournament and expects to take first prize and championship. Good stuff, Calgary. There is some artistic work out out for you.

LAWN TENNIS.

The annual tournament of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, opened at the grounds of the club, Belcher street, this morning, and will last several days. Players from Vancouver and Westminster are present. The tennis tournament at Vancouver was concluded on Saturday, the final sets being fought out by Bewell and Williams. The former conceded 15 points but came off winner. He is said to be an excellent player.

THE RAILWAY FERRY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR:—It is certainly gratifying to see the progress our country is making with her railroads. It is rumored that the Westminster Southern Railway Co. are applying for a portion of the Government reserve at the head of Lulu Island, below the Royal City Planing mills, Westminster, where they contemplate bridging the North Arm and establishing the round houses, &c., as the river is very shallow and narrow in that vicinity. The railway will then be extended down the island and terminate at a point just below English & Co.'s cannery, known as Steve's Landing, where there is the deepest water on the river and a point where steamers can safely land in the winter when there is the most ice. With this extension the Westminster Southern Railway will be dependent on no other railroad at any season of the year, and it certainly will be a convenient point for the ferry from Shoal Harbor to connect with the Westminster Southern at all times of the year.

LULU ISLAND.

Mr. Lovell Explains.

A few weeks ago we copied from the Montreal Star an interview with Mr. J. B. Lovell, of this city, which was incorrect in several particulars. Under date of July 25, Mr. Lovell wrote from on board the steamer Athabaska, as follows: "I am surprised to see, by newspapers just received by me, that you make me say the Indians of Skeena are peaceful and thoroughly honest." Now, sir, I could not have used those words, but when you interviewed me I told you that as I had just come off the ocean, I had seen the reports very imperfectly, and a knew very little, but that I was afraid the whites had been too hasty, and that nothing appeared to me to justify shooting the Indian by the constable; that I considered that the authorities should refrain from interfering with the Indians in their own affairs; that even in the case of murder amongst themselves the whites should not interfere if they can consistantly avoid it. I also told you that I had been a trader in the Omineca mines some years ago, and that I had considerable to do with the Skeena Indians, and that, like other Indians in British Columbia they were good packers (or carriers), that they had packed many thousands of pounds of merchandise into the mines for me and that I had found them very trusty in every respect, and that though like other savages, they were superstitious, selfish, greedy and over-reaching, and very bad pays if they got in debt, that they were not given to pilfering or stealing. But you should remember that that was some years ago, and since then they may have changed very much, for it is a regretable fact, that the morals and honesty of the Indians, as a rule, are not improved by contact with the whites."

Boulanger Shot At--New Libel Suits-Von Moltke's Successor--Royal Visiting.

Another Ottawa Yarn--Another Week of the Fisheries Treaty--Drowned.

ANOTHER OTTAWA YARN.

Ottawa, Aug 13—It is learned from unofficial sources that the Canadian Pacific people are taking steps to prevent the ratification of the agreement entered into between the Manitoba Government and the Northern Pacific Railway by which the latter is to acquire the Red River Valley road and secure an entrance into the Northwest. This the Canadian Pacific is endeavoring to prevent. With this object in view the Canadian Pacific will make desperate efforts to defeat the Greenway Government when he calls the Provincial Legislature together to confirm the agreement made with the Northern Pacific. In the hope of shutting out such a formidable rival the Dominion Government is preparing to use every effort to defeat Premier Greenway and his railway agreement and protect the Canadian Pacific from foreign competition. A prominent supporter of the Dominion Government says neither the Canadian Pacific nor Dominion Government wishes to see the Northern Pacific enter Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest and every effort will be made by them to prevent it.

TWO NEW LIBEL SUITS.

London, Aug. 13—T. P. O'Conner and Joseph Redmond begun libel suits today.

WOULD STOP 1,000,000 SPINDLES.

The card-room hands in the mills at Blackburn have notified the masters that unless they are granted an advance of 10 per cent in wages they will strike. This would involve the stoppage of 150,000 looms and 1,000,000 spindles and the disemployment of 80,000 operators.

ANNEXATION IN CUBA.

Madrid, Aug. 13.—The Cuban government reports that an agitation is being carried on in Cuba with the assistance of influential American politicians in favor of the annexation of Cuba with the United States.

KING OF PORTUGAL VISITS.

Berlin, Aug. 13.—The King of Portugal has arrived here.

BOULANGER SHOT AT.

Paris, Aug. 13—General Boulanger, while driving in an open carriage at St. Jean Dargely yesterday, was shot at five times from a pistol in the hands of Prof. Perrin of the Lycee, who is a friend of Msgr. Lair, a candidate nominated by the opportunists in opposition to the General. The shooting led to a collision between the rival parties in which a number were severely injured.

Boulanger returned to Paris last night. After an examination the magistrates ordered the release of Professor Perrin, charged with an attempt to shoot the general. It is stated that Perrin was knocked down by the partisans of General Boulanger, and that he fired at his assailants in self defense, and not at Boulanger. Many participants in the fight were arrested.

VON MOLTKE'S SUCCESSOR.

Berlin, Aug. 13—Count Von Moltke, retired Prussian Field Marshal of the German Army is succeeded by Lieut.-General Count Vanwatderz. The Emperor has written a gracious and affectionate letter to Von Moltke nominating him president of the country defensive division.

AMERICAN DISPATCHES.

RACE IS OVER.

Sharon, Conn., Aug. 13.—Lawrence Jerome the noted horseman is dead. Aged 69.

CHILDREN'S INDIFFERENCE.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Mary Domingam, mother of a daughter and two sons, suicided by poison this morning because of the indifferent manner in which her children had been treating her.

ANOTHER WEEK OF IT.

Washington Aug. 13.—The fisheries treaty promises to absorb the attention of the senate all the present week. A bill to admit Washington Territory will be brought up.

BATTLE OF BULLETS.

Bakersfield, Cal., Aug. 13.—A battle of bullets took place on the open plain yesterday between two Mexican horse thieves and Constable Tibbet and a companion from whom the Mexicans had stolen three horses. The Mexicans were arrested after one had been slightly wounded.

THIRTY NEW CASES.

Washington Aug. 13—A telegram received at the Marine hospital from Jacksonville, Fla., reports thirty new cases of yellow fever during the past twenty-four hours. There were three deaths.

TRIPLE MURDER.

Shenandoah, Iowa, Aug. 13—Three men were killed and several wounded by a notorious character armed Frank Gallup, late on Saturday night. Gallup was beating his aged father when the cries of the latter attracted a crowd. F. K. Pine attempted to prevent the further chastisement of the old man when he was shot dead by Gallup. The next man to fall was Dave Campbell who was followed by B. O. Rice. The sheriff finally secured the young murderer, but he was soon seized by an infuriated crowd and hanged.

THE CHINESE BILL.

Washington, Aug. 13—Four members of the house committee on foreign affairs to-day discussed the bill to give effect to the Chinese treaty already passed by the Senate. In the absence of a quorum they did not attempt to take any action, but the tone of the discussion showed that all the members present without regard to party were in favor of a speedy report to the house. Hilt, a member of the committee, who has heretofore held very conservative views in the matter of anti-Chinese legislation, to-day expressed himself as satisfied that the pending bill will meet all the present requirements of the situation.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

New York, Aug. 13—Solomon Reid, aged 16, William Lawrence, 18, and a third person, name unknown, were drowned last night in East river from a boat which was upset by the wash from a ferry boat.

BLAINE STUMPING THE STATES.

New York, Aug. 13.—Blaine, wife and family, Dr. Baden, Chairman of the Massachusetts Republican State Committee and Thos. C. Bates of Manchester, left on the Grand Central this morning at 11 a. m., on President Clark's private car on the N. Y. & N. H. Railway, on their eastern trip. Stops will be made at points laid out.

THE USUAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Port Jervis, N. Y., Aug. 13—A washout on the Erie road near Shohola, early this morning, wrecked an east-bound freight train. The cars were smashed. Engineer Fitz, Fireman Rogen and Conductor Long were fatally injured. The west-bound express train came along about the same time and was thrown down an 80 foot embankment. The cars caught fire and were totally burned. Alex. Newman, the fireman, was burned to death. Thirty passengers were injured, some fatally. Twelve thoroughbred horses on the train were roasted to death.

LILY LANGTRY'S HORSES BURNED.

Port Jervis, Aug. 13—Among the horses burned were Eola and Orphan Boy. Ecliest and Scandinavian, owned by Mat Storms of California, were killed. Storms, who was in the car with the horses, will probably die from his injuries. The horses burned belonged to Mrs. Langtry and Fred. Gebhardt and were valued at $100,000. They were shipped from Long Branch on Saturday.

PILLAGING A TOWN.

Fresno, Cal., Aug. 13—A fire which was undoubtedly the work of a gang of men, who were engaged in numerous robberies of late, destroyed a block of business houses in the heart of the business portion of the city early yesterday morning. Two men were probably fatally burned and several others severly injured. While the fire was in progress many of the stores were entered by members of the above mentioned gang and pillaged. The total loss is variously estimated at from one hundred and fifty to three hundred thousand dollars.

In many counties rust has ruined the wheat. Of oats, not more than half the fields will be cut. Even otherwise good fields have been twisted and tangled by the recent storms. These storms also have greatly damaged corn.

BLAINE'S RECEPTION.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 13—An immense crowd gathered at the depots at Stanford and here to greet Blaine. There was immense enthusiasm at both places.

DROWNED.

Anaheim, Cal., Aug. 13—Louise Parker, 12 years of age, while gathering clams at Anaheim Landing, twelve miles from here, on Saturday, accidentally fell into deep water and was drowned.

A Coming Event.

Mr. M. Lopatecki, of the Standard, will lead one of Victoria's fair daughters to the altar on Wednesday night. We extend our best wishes.

Choir Changes.

Mr. John Meston, who has for years served faithfully and well as the leader of the Pandora Presbyterian church choir, has resigned and is succeeded by Mr. J. G. Brown, late of Winnipeg. Mr. Brown is possessed of a strong baritone voice, of good compass and is a decided acquisition to the musical talent of the city. His solo of last evening is commented upon as a very fine effort.

Wants the News.

Carrier—You have been getting the Standard free for this week. Don't you think you will continue it?

Victoria public—No, we don't think we will.

Carrier—Well, but the Standard is conservative.

Victoria public—Conservative be blanked. It's the news we want.

Paternal Shingle Wanted.

Some complaints are heard from Victoria West about the contiguity of powder magazines since two boys were discovered placing fire crackers in the key holes and then setting them off. The residences are perhaps getting too close to the magazines and ultimately no doubt the latter will have to be removed but meantime if the paternal shingle were taken down and properly applied it would go a long way towards remedying the difficulty.

No Answer Yet.

It may seem extraordinary, but it is nevertheless true, that the Indians on the Naas have received no answer from either governments since the return of Messrs. Plants and Cornwall, the commissioners who interviewed the head men of the disaffected tribes about one year ago. The commissioners have long since reported, and no doubt made recommendations, but true to the old tomorrow policy the governments have done nothing. The sending of a commission to confer with Indians naturally gives the untutored aborigines the impression that something is going to be done, and it is not to be wondered at that they have lost all faith in the good Queen's representatives.

The Chilliwhack Show.

AN UNPROFITABLE DISCUSSION.

Our contempories, the News and the Colonist, are making too much adoo about the alleged contemplated removal of the H. B. Co.'s headquarters from Victoria to Vancouver. The representative of that company in Victoria will not feel under any great obligation to either of the papers named for the extraordinary liberty that is being taken in discussing a purely private business matter, and were the management to express an opinion at all upon the course of our confreres it would very probably be something about the propriety of newspaper writers minding their own business.

Of course, if there were any probability of such a change, the people of the two cities interested might be excused for making the matter a personal one, although anything they might do or say would not affect the policy of the company concerned. But although there is no such probability, we are not surprised that Vancouver should covet what is its neighbor's, or that the News writer should draw upon a fertile imagination in order that an unbounded ambition may be for a moment gratified.

Necessarily the Hudson Bay Company will have a large retail establishment at Vancouver; but nothing has been made public as yet to warrant the conclusions arrived at by the News. In fact many reasons could be given, were it necessary to enter upon a discussion of the question, which would prove even to the satisfaction of our contemporary at "the only port," that it is proposed to make Vancouver an important outpost of Victoria, which will not only in all human probability, remain the headquarters of the Hudson Bay Company, but of the wholesale trade of the province for many years to come. But what does it matter to us of the present age what may happen a century or two hence.

THE ALASKA BOUNDARY.

According to the convention between Great Britain and Russia, concluded in 1825, the boundary line between the British territory (now British Columbia) and that of the Czar, (now the United States district of Alaska,) was thus defined: "Commencing from the southernmost point of the island called Prince of Wales Island, which point lies in the parallel of 54.40 north latitude, and between the 131st and 133rd degrees of west longitude (meridian of Greenwich), the said line shall ascend to the north, along the channel called the Portland channel, as far as the point of the continent where it strikes the 56th degree of north latitude. From this last mentioned point, the line of demarcation shall follow the summit of the mountains situated parallel to the coast, as far as the point of intersection of the 141st degree of west longitude (of the same meridian) and finally, from the said point of intersection of the said meredian, in its prolongation, as far as the Frozen Ocean. With reference to the line of demarcation laid down in the preceding articles, it is understood: 1st. that the island called Prince of Wales Island shall belong wholly to Russia; 2nd, that whenever the summit of the mountains which extend in a direction parallel to the coast from the 55th degree of north latitude to the point of intersection of the 141st degree of west longtitude shall prove to be at the distance of more than ten marine leagues from the ocean, the limit between the British possessions and the line of coast which is to belong to Russia, as above mentioned, shall be formed by a line paralled to the winding of the coast, and which shall never exceed the distance of ten marine leagues therefrom."

THE INDIAN EMPIRE.

The Indian Empire is not a miracle in the rhetorician's sense, but in the theologian's sense. It is a thing which exists and is alive, but cannot be accounted for by any process of reasoning founded on experience. It is a miracle as a floating island of granite would be a miracle, or a bird of brass which flew and sung and lived on in mid-air. It is a structure built on nothing, without foundation and without buttresses, held in its place by some force the origin of which is undiscoverable and the nature of which has never been explained. For eighty years at least writers by the score have endeavored to bring home to Englishmen the vastness of India, but so far as can be perceived, they have all failed. The Briton reads what they say, learns up their figures, tries to understand their descriptions, but fails, for all his labor, to realise what India is—a continent large as Europe west of the Vistula, and with 30,000,000 more people, fuller of ancient nations, of great cities, of varieties of civilization, of armies, nobilities, priesthoods, organizations for every conceivable purpose from the spreading of great religions down to systematic murder. There are twice as many Bengalees as there are Frenchmen; the Hindostanees properly so-called outnumber the whites in the United States; the Marhattas would fill Spain, the people of the Punjab with Scinde are double the population of Turkey, and I have named but four of the salient divisions. Everything is on the same bewildering scale. The fighting people of India, whose males are as big as ourselves, as brave as ourselves, number at least 120,000,000, equal to Gibbon's calculation of the population of the Roman Empire. There are 400,000 trained brown soldiers in native service, of whom we hear perhaps once in ten years, and at least 2,000,000 of men who think their proper profession is arms, who would live by arms if they could, and of whom we in England never hear a word.

If the Prussian conscription were applied in India, we should, without counting reserves or Landwehr or any force not summoned in time of peace, have two and a half millions of soldiers actually in barracks, with 800,000 recruits coming up every year—a force with which, not only Asia, but the world, might be subdued.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Owen Jones, who is interested in the cable scheme between Canada and Australia, says he feels confident it will be completed in eighteen months. All that is wanted is to secure a guarantee of £75,000. He will revisit Sir John at Dalhousie shortly.

A heated discussion has sprung up in Winnipeg relative to the Northern Pacific agreement, which is meeting with more opposition than was expected. Provincial Treasurer Jones has gone east, and it is said he is not in accord with his colleagues on the question.

The Detroit Evening News grows alarmed over the progress made by Canada and shudders at the thought that there may come a time in the not remote future when the United States will have upon her borders "the most powerful and the most grasping power the world ever saw." Our contemporary should not borrow trouble. Canada's desire is to live on fair terms with her Republic neighbor, nothing discriminating nor setting down aught in anger. We would be friends with the Union, aye, and customers, too. Even now, we buy from her more than we sell to her by so many millions, thus adding to her greatness on this continent. Nor have we any sinister designs on the body politic. All the outcry that our American friends make about the growing greatness of Canada, all the fear and tribulation expressed lest at some time we should seize them in our grasp, is but vain imagining. Canada would be friendly, and has, by building railways for the greater convenience of U. S. traffic, proven that she deserves well and not ill of her great neighbor.

When the resignation of Sir Geo. Stephen had been accepted at the meeting of the directors of the C. P. R. Co., a resolution was passed expressing regret at the action that had been taken and complimenting him on the ability and zeal he had exhibited for the success of the road since its inception. Sir George has issued a circular to the shareholders in which he takes this opportunity to carry out his long expressed desire to retire from the active management of the road on account of the satisfactory condition in which it is now placed and the poor state of his health. He also expressed satisfaction at the appointment of his successor, W. C. Van Horne, a man of proved fitness for the office, in the prime of life, possessed of great energy and rare ability; having a long and thoroughly practical railroad experience and above all entire devotion to the interests of the company. He also congratulated the company on the friendship of the lines extending from Sault Ste. Marie to St. Paul and Minneapolis and to Duluth, and also in settling with the Wabash road for permanent connection with the Detroit river and Chicago in the southwest, and on the conclusion of negotiations with the Imperial Government for the establishment of a steamship line between Vancouver and China and Japan. Sir George has consented to remain on the board for the present. He goes to England soon to act as president of the board which has financial control, and will reside permanently there, an estate having been purchased in the south of England.

WIT AND WISDOM.

The time for one to strike—Sixty minutes after twelve.

When you succeed in life you will find everybody willing to help you.

Nothing sours so quickly as the milk of human kindness. Has this thought ever a cord to you?

The reason some men can't make both ends meet is because they are too busily engaged in making one end drink.

A negro wedding in Norfolk closed with the remark by the parson, "We'll sing that beautiful hymn, 'Plunged in a gulf of dark despair.'"

A girl sued a man for breach of promise, and proved him such a scoundrel that the jury decided that she ought to pay him something for not marrying her.

"And are you really so badly broke, my friend?" he said, as he tendered the tramp a penny. "Broke?" was the bitter response. "I'm as badly broken as the ten commandments."

"I see a buttonless shirt advertised here, John," said a wife, looking up from a paper; "what kind of a shirt is that?" "Just like mine," was the reply. And the wife resumed her reading.

Captain to the man at the wheel—"Another point a-port, quartermaster." Lady passenger—"Good gracious, that's the second pint of port he has called for within a few minutes. How those captains drink!"

VICTORIA INDUSTRIES.

The Furniture Manufactory of Shore & Anderson--Rapidly Increasing Trade.

The Soda Water Establishment of C. Morley--Our Temperance Beverages.

The furniture manufactory of Messrs. SHORE & ANDERSON, 107 Douglas street, to all intents and purposes claims a place in a description of our city's manufacturing industries, although this firm has not the gigantic aid of powerful machinery to enable them to entirely manufacture the several articles of household furniture on their premises. Messrs. Shore & Anderson being both practical workmen in the cabinet making and upholstering line, are fully alive to the wants of the trade and the requirements of their customers, as will be seen by the large display in their extensive warerooms. Here were shown parlor and drawing-room sets equal to any in taste and finish as seen elsewhere, while their show of bed-room sets, both imported and of their own manufacture are a credit to the furniture industries of Victoria. The woodwork of the finer and more expensive kind of chairs are imported from eastern Canada in what is called the knocked down state, i. e., they are packed in pieces and on arrival are fitted, put together and varnished. The chair manufactory can't be very well carried on in Victoria, the native timber of the country not being suitable, besides were the timber suited it were impossible owing to lack of outlet and demand to compete with the present eastern competition. As things now stand this firm hire the use of turning and sawing machinery during the dull time and get out sufficient stuff to meet their demands for a season, making the material up into bedroom sets, tables, &c., on their own premises. The display of manufactured and imported goods in furniture and carpets would bear favorable comparison with the establishments of more pretension. They manufacture spring mattresses (importing the springs) and for price and excellence defy competition. The output for last year was something in the neighborhood of $12,000. There are some five hands employed, and the business is steadily increasing; in fact building itself. Two years ago, with a very small capital, these gentlemen laid the foundation of the present thriving concern, and hopes are entertained that they will ere long be enabled to call to their aid the help of machinery. Already they are compelled to enlarge their premises by the addition of a room 60 x 37, which will be ready by fall. Mr. Shore is an Eastern Canadian, having acquired a thorough knowledge of the cabinet making there, while his partner, Mr. Anderson, mastered the upholstering business in 'Frisco and in the factory of John Weiler here. Both gentlemen thus aided by a large experience, backed by an amount of push and energy, and being thorough masters of their art will ere long help to swell the box of busy machinery in the furniture manufacturing line of Victoria.

We have taken our readers through beer tubs, opium joints, cigar smoke, and now we will have something refreshing. We found of soda water fame, in Waddington alley, busy "counting all his money." Mr. Morley kindly conducted us over his large and extensive premises, and with just pride pointed out the unrivalled qualifications of his machinery obtained direct from the world renowned Barnett and Foster, of London, England. By the use of this celebrated machinery the gas necessary for the creation of the water is not drawn direct from the generator; it is purified by passing through a gasometer and other processes. The water from the city mains undergoes two filterations previous to being aerated, one through a Boston patent and another through a Barnett & Foster slate tank and filterer with capilliary action. The bottling apparatus is of the make of that firm and every safeguard is taken to guard against accidents from bursting of bottles when being charged, so that cut hands or faces from this cause are unknown in this establishment. The appliances for bottling and handling the aerated goods are of the most modern improvement, and for cleanliness and excellence cannot be excelled. One of Barnett & Foster's engines supplies the motive power for generating the gas, pumping, bottling, cleaning, &c., also the steam for boiling the ginger beer and other things necessary in the manufacture of aerated waters. The Morley factory turns out a superior article of ginger ale, ginger beer, lemonade, soda water, Seltzer, &c., which obtain a ready sale in the city and the province at large. The output for last year was $15,000, and the number of hands employed six constantly. The capacity of the machinery is some 1,200 dozen for a day of ten hours. The demand is brisk and holding steadily on. Mr. Morley has no fear of eastern competition. The essence of peppermint and ginger is manufactured on the premises. All other essences and flavors are obtained from Toronto and Montreal. The consumers of Morley's aerated waters may rely on the cleanliness and purity of the article, free from any delitrious or poisonous substances, refreshing and delicious! Morley's goods have received diplomas and medals from Colonial and India and also provincial shows.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go wthout attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

SCOTTISH LITERATURE.

III. ANDREW WYNTOUN, THE PRIOR—A QUAINT OLD POEM.

Andrew Wyntoun was a canon of St. Andrews and afterwards prior of St. Serf's monastery in Lochleven. Somewhere about the year 1420 he completed the "Orygynale Cronykil of Scotland," extending down to his own time. The prior undertook his chronicle at the suggestion of Sir John Wemyss. He divides it into nine books, "in honoure of thae ordynynys." It contains a good number of fabulous legends, such as we may suppose to have been told around the evening fire of a monastery in those days. The Chronicle has not much poetical merit and is greatly inferior to Barbour's Bruce, our subject last week. The Chronicle is interesting for the view it affords of the language, attainments and manners of the author's time and country.

"ST. SERF AND SATAN."

While St. Serf, intil a stead,
Lay after matins in his bed,
The devil came, in foul intent
For til found him wi' argument.
And said: "St. Serf, by thy werk
I ken thou art a cunning clerk."
St. Serf said: "Gif I sae be,
Foul wretch, what is that for thee?"
St. Serf the devil askit than
"Where God made Adam, the first man?"
"In Ebron Adam formit was,"
St. Serf said; "And till him Sathanas—"
The Devil askit, "How lang he bode
In paradise, after his sin?"
"Seven hours," St. Serf said, "bode he therin."
The Devil askit: "Why that ye [in.
Men are quite delivered free,
And we devils sae are nocht?"
St. Serf said: "For that ye
Fell through your sin iniquity;
And through curses we ever fell,
But through your fallen false counsell."

VOICE FROM THE MOUNTAINS.

Express Charges—The Porcupine Creek Diggings—Bridge Building.

(Donald Truth.)

Judge Vowell reports the government bridge across the Kootenay river at that place nearing completion. It crosses the stream a little below Galbraith's ferry, and will cost between $6,000 and $7,000. Galbraith's ferry has been running some fifteen years, and while at one time a good piece of property, it is not so now—it not paying its owners for attending to it. The wagon road grade on the Fort Steele side is almost done, and the men who are working on it will be transferred to Canal Flats, where several miles of the road need repairing, the blasting and cribbing having been done in a faulty manner. The road and bridge work is all being done by the day, the government paying laborers $2.50 and carpenters and sawman $3 a day, they boarding themselves. The Judge reports the contractors who are digging the canal to connect the Kootenay river and the upper Columbia lake making good progress with their work.

As the Colonist is supposed to have the ear of the present provincial government, it may be able to tell the people of this section what has become of the government test smelter that was to have been built somewhere in Kootenay country this season.

Mr. Davis, superintendent of development work at the Field mines, was in Donald on Sunday last. He reports 26 men at work; most of them engaged in grading a roadbed for the tramway on which the ore will be conveyed from the mine to the C. P. R. sidetrack.

During the week a couple of the boys packed an old sluice box up Porcupine creek to some distance above the discovery claim, and cleared up over $6 in dust to the man in less than a day. Three pack animals loaded with supplies went in from Donald yesterday morning.

A correspondent writes: I enclose you an invoice for 4 boxes of fruit, which weigh about 150 pounds and cost at Victoria $7.55, the Dominion Express Company charging $9.60 for carrying them from Victoria to this place a point west of Donald.

THE INLAND CAPITAL.

Interesting Items—Mining—Incorporation of Kamloops—Schools.

[From the Inland Sentinel.]

A meeting of citizens favorable to incorporation was held in Gordon Bros. store last evening. Dr. Clarke was appointed chairman and Mr. F. Sears, secretary. The business consisted of appointing a committee to draw up a petition in favor of incorporation, according to the requirements of the Municipalities Act, and submit it to citizens for signature.

On Monday afternoon the funeral of Charles McKane, a native of Antrim, Ireland, who died in the hospital here on the previous day, took place and was largely attended. The remains were escorted to the last resting place by the Pioneer Society, with the Kamloops band rendering appropriate airs.

A telegram was received on Thursday by Mr. H. McLeod, from his father at Revelstoke, stating that he had sold a fifth interest in the mining location owned by himself and son, for $7,000.

The public schools in Kamloops reopened on Monday last, with Mr. E. S. Woods, in his former position as principal. The junior department is in charge of Miss Pearson of Westminster, late of Hope school.

The diggings at Beaver creek are expected to turn out a good deal of gold yet this fall, from $6 to $10 a day being realized per man. An Explanation

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous. *

And, Whereas, for the purposes aforesaid it is intended to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the said City the sum of $20,000.

"I Was Badly Advised."

We have heard nothing from the Colonist during the past few days about its client. Where is the bold editor now? He induced the unfortunate Menzies to come back and establish his innocence. Menzies is in trouble, wants bail, can't get it; where is the editor of the Colonist? Is he deaf, or perhaps sleeps, or peradventure has he gone on a journey? When the hard knocks come he is not there. It is not sufficient to say Menzies is persecuted, the magistrate is dishonorable, Gardner is everything that's bad and the TIMES is despicable. No, the man who brought Menzies back, who has now given him cause to say "I was badly advised," should stand by him. There is a certain kind of honor among thieves.

A Generous Act.

The C. P. R. furnishes free transportation for the railroad employers' picnic in Kamloops on September 17th. The entire proceeds from the sale of tickets is to be turned over for the benefit of the libraries on the Pacific division. Even a big railroad company can, once in a while, do a generous act.

Reception this Evening.

A reception will be tendered to Mr. Teague, the new Y. M. C. A. Secretary, in the rooms of the association this evening. Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Reid, Rev. Mr. McLeod and others and a good programme of solos, duets, etc., will be rendered. A very pleasant evening may be expected. Admission free and all cordially invited.

Manitoba Odd Fellows.

At a meeting of the Manitoba Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., last week the following officers were elected: Grand Master, H. J. Raymer, Winnipeg; Deputy Grand Master, Dr. Gilbert, Carberry; Grand Warden, David MacKay, Emerson; Grand Secretary, J. D. Conklin; Grand Treasurer, Dr. Riddell, Crystal City; Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, C. D. Anderson, Winnipeg, re-elected.

Our Demands.

The Mail is authority for the statement that the post-office authorities think that British Columbians are quite unnecessarily demanding their pound of flesh. According to the terms of union, they can insist on the maintenance of an ocean mail service between Victoria and San Francisco, but why they should continue to insist on such a service when there is perfect communication by rail, is something the officials cannot understand.

Obituary.

David Marwick died last night. Deceased lived for some years at the North Dairy farm and was night-watchman for the Hudson Bay Company on the wharf at present owned by the C. P. N. Company. Since that time deceased was employed in the same capacity on Spratt's wharf. He was aged about sixty years.

Olive, daughter of Daniel and Clara McLachlan, died at 2 o'clock this morning. The little girl was aged two years. The community sympathize with the parents in their sad bereavement.

Alberni News.

David Little arrived from Alberni last night via Nanaimo. He informs us that the new residence of J. C. Mollett on his new claim near Sumas river, was burned down about three weeks ago, the fire having evidently been started by an incendiary. The building was finished last fall, but had not yet been occupied. The incendiary is unknown. The people are properly indignant, as they do not want any character of that class in the valley.

Rev. Mr. Dunn had been slightly unwell but had recovered again and was working as usual for the good of the valley.

The crops were large and are nearly all harvested.

Victoria Industries.

Our articles on the manufactuaing industries of the city, which we have reason to know have been highly appreciated, will be completed in a few days. In the meantime, if there is any purely manufacturing enterprise that has been overlooked, we hope the proprietor will inform us of the fact, so that all may be included. Our wish is to notice every one in the city. There still remains one or two descriptions of which will appear to-morrow; while a few, for private or business reasons, have requested a postponement for few weeks of a visit to their establishments. These articles have been entirely voluntary on our part, and in no instance have they been paid for.

Northern Mission.

The steamer Dora left San Francisco last week for Alaskan ports. The Dora carried five passengers among whom was the Rev. Octavius Parker, who goes to engage in mission work among the tribes on the Yukon river, some 500 miles from the nearest settlement, Anik. The Rev. gentleman stated that the missions were established some two years ago and that 100 natives had gathered around the two "settlements." One of them is under the charge of the English, and the other under the American branch of the Episcopal Church. No proselytizing has as yet been undertaken among the natives, the missionaries having to educate them in the mysteries of English education before endeavoring to inculcate the doctrines of Christianity. Dr. Parker is very hopeful of the prospects of the country both in mining and some slight agricultural advancements. He says the trip, made in canoes towed by a small river steamer, up the Yukon from St. Michaels is one of the grandest that can be imagined, rivaling in splendor the famed canyons of the Colorado.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

Mr. Isaacs and Mr. Morals—Thistle Growing, &c.

A visit to the well known museum of Mr. Isaacs, Johnson street, would repay. Here are to be found real works of art from the Northern Coast and Queen Charlotte Islands in particular, the product of the aborigines of these regions. The wood and stone carving, also mat work, are indeed wonderful, when it is understood that these people fashioned the articles with implements and tools of a very primitive kind. It seems that the stone age was present in these localities till a very recent date. Mr. Isaacs, from his long residence and trade connections with these tribes, explains the several features of the art with all the eagerness and enthusiasm of a connoisseur.

Well, "Mr. Morals" writing to Friday's TIMES, what do you want the Major to do? He's neither a Martin Luther, a John Wesley nor yet a Parnell. What you want here in Victoria is a William Lyon McKenzie, a George Brown, assisted by Messrs. Moody and Sankey. If you have landlords that will take rent for such places as you describe, who believe in the saw that "a dollar is a dollar, no matter how it comes"—if your community stands in no dread of public uprobium and opinion—if you have high-toned ministers of the pulpit that would fear to offend the ears of their fashionable hearers by relating from the pulpit the horrors you mention—if your city authorities will not act—if you have a community, nay a whole people given to pandering to vice in some way or another, either directly or indirectly, giving such abuses countenance by silence. If you have a people so dead to all that's decent, right and proper, none caring how the other does, on the root hog or die principle. If you have all these growing, blossoming and thriving here in your beautiful city, in the name of common sense what can a poor devil like The Major do? If there was even such a thing as a half public opinion here there might be some chance, but there's not. So what can you do? There's a poser for you, Mr. Morals.

The dust blowing off the streets and roads is bad enough, but when it comes to corporation fiends shovelling it up into the air in one of the principal streets it is terrible. Why not water it just a little before you shovel? Just try it next time.

The police are busy citing some people before the awful presence for having a taste for cultivating the thistle. We have so much Scotch in our composition that the cultivation is natural, but then all citizens should be treated alike. Some, and they're not Scotch at all, can grow all they like with impunity, while others pay $2 and costs. Now, Mr. Policeman, the Major wants you take a walk just for exercise for once in a while, to that junction of Government and Douglas streets, and then go and summon the Mayor and City Council, Board of Works, the Water Commissioners, the Nuisance Inspector, the whole lot, recollect, have them all up before the beaks and fined for growing thistles on their city property. Else, if not, any citizens fined should demand the return of their fines, and have it, too.

It takes John Chinaman to raise a dust, aye, and a fire, too. The periodical visit of the "Scutari" of early days by the Celestials yesterday, nearly treated the quiet neighborhood of Mears and Quadra streets to a blaze, only for the timely aid of a young man at the time passing, the old cemetery would have been ablaze in a short time. "John" didn't care; he hooked it with his pig, "alle same."

The Major was very glad to see that his lady friends have taken his advice and prevailed on their brothers and their cousins to accompany them to church at last. This is a sign of THE TIMES, and the effect of good sound moral reading. In a Cathedral of worship the singing was something fine; that choir is a credit to any city. There was no chance of a good sleep. The sermon was terse and to the point. We were told that "the Pharasees were rather a good sort—not a bad lot entirely." We all know that the "old chap" is not so black as he is painted. "That it would be hard to draw the line in our society, between good and bad; men put themselves up for philantrophists from a desire of vain glory, not from love, etc." The reverend preacher need not fear there are not many of either kind around Victoria. Love, vain glory, fear or anything else has no effect. The climate and surroundings of our moral atmosphere for 30 years is dead against such things. THE TOWN MAJOR.

FORESTER'S REUNION.

A Large Number in Attendance—Pleasant Weather.

On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, Court Northern Light A. O. F., met at their hall on Government street, and with a number of visiting brethern marched to the E. & N. depot, headed by their brass band under the leadership of Frank Stevens. W. Ahern, dressed in full regalia, walked ahead of the procession carrying the banner of the society. At 8:20 a. m. the train started for Nanaimo with 300 excursionists. They arrived at the city of Black Diamonds at 12:15 with L. G. Burns and W. Ahern in Robin Hood costume on the cowcatcher. They were met at the train by Court Nanaimo Foresters Home and marched to Foresters Hall. An address of welcome was read by the Chief Ranger of the Nanaimo Court and was responded to by Chief Ranger B. Williams, of Court Northern Light. The Courts then adjourned for luncheon and re-formed in procession at 1:30 p.m., for the purpose of marching to the Foresters picnic grounds. The procession, led by two Foresters in costume on horseback, and with two bands playing, marched to the picturesque grounds situate about a mile from the city. On arriving at the picnic grounds archery commenced and was kept up during the afternoon. A large dancing platform was well patronized by lovers of the light fantastic. Music was furnished by the Nanaimo and Victoria bands and dancing was kept until midnight. A majority of the excursionists returned home on last night's train, well pleased with the treatment accorded by the Nanaimo Foresters. About 1000 persons attended the picnic, which was a success. The weather was all that could be desired.

POLICE COURT RECORD.

[Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q.C.]

Two drunks contributed $15 towards the funds of the Corporation.

Four citizens paid $2 apiece for the privilege of growing thistles on their property beyond the prescribed date.

One gentleman objected to the payment of $2. He neither owned, occupied or leased the property on which thistles flourished and was merely engaged in finding a proper person to introduce to the owner. The case was remanded until to-morrow.

THE BEAVER

The Old Historical Steamer Beaver Still Aground.

The steamer Beaver is still aground at the Narrows, Vancouver, and it is probable that she will remain aground at the narrows for some time. This vessel arrived at Victoria 53 years ago and was the first steamer to round Cape Horn. After a passage of 163 days she anchored at Astoria, on the Columbia river. King William and 150,000 Englishmen witnessed the launch of the steamer and a duchess broke the bottle of champagne and bestowed the name she has borne ever since. The engines and boiler were built by Bolton & Watt, the latter a son of the great Watt. It was not considered safe to work the engines on the passage, so the steamer was rigged as a brig and came out under sail. Captain Home was the first commander of the Beaver. A bark accompanied the steamer from the Thames, but the Beaver set all canvas and reached the Columbia 22 days ahead. She carried six nine-pounder guns. Her first trip under steam was from Astoria to Nisqually, the H. B. Co.'s chief station on the Pacific. At that place Captain McNeill took command, Captain Home retiring to one of the forts on the Columbia. He was drowned in 1837 at Death's rapids. For some years the Beaver was used to convey furs and supplies from the stations of the Hudson Bay Company. She afterwards passed into the hands of the Imperial hydrographers and was used in sounding and surveying around Vancouver Island. Not one single member of the crew that arrived on the Beaver is living to-day and nearly all the Company's officers who received her on her arrival at the Columbia are gone. Amongst the best known of her commanders were Capt. Dodds, Capt. Brotchie, Capts. Scarborough, Sangster, Mitchell, McNeil, Rudlin and Jagers. Mr. Henry Saunders is the present owner of this historical steamer, and with his usual enterprise will have her again afloat. Her timbers are as sound as the day on which she first rounded Cape Horn.

Professor Goldwin Smith, who had fully intended remaining in Victoria till Friday next, was unexpectedly called away on Saturday evening and left on the Yosemite that night for Vancouver. Before leaving Mr. Smith expressed himself as "perfectly delighted" with Victoria. He had never seen a place or been among people where he felt more at home. We can only express the hope that the distinguished writer and scholar will soon be able to visit us again.
